SYNCHRONOUS INSTRUCTION takes place in real-time either in-person or using ZOOM.

ASYNCHRONOUS INSTRUCTION: Between classes, trainees are responsible for completing Independent Learning Modules (ILMs). ILMs may include: readings, pre-recorded lectures, videos, reflections, lesson planning, or other activities.

OGA has MINIMUM standards, curriculum and hours required for any course leading to certification. Fellows can require more coursework hours or practicum hours or observations at their discretion.

FUNDAMENTALS course —

This introductory course is a PREREQUISITE for all other training.

It provides an overview of the processes underlying literacy development; current research in the fields of reading, writing, spelling, and dyslexia; the scientific study of language and its structure; and introduces the O-G approach.

It is the only the FIRST PART of the Classroom Educator or Associate level training and is not meant to be taken in isolation without further study.

COURSEWORK: 45 hours synchronous + 45 hours asynchronous

CLASSROOM EDUCATOR course —

This seminar is specifically designed to equip teachers with tools and resources to deliver beginning literacy instruction in the classroom. Trainees walk away with a multitude of materials and ideas to use in the classroom, small groups or with individual students! Utilizing direct instruction, teachers bring a multisensory, structured, sequential, phonics and linguistic approach into the mainstream classroom. Trainees who wish to provide remedial support need to take the Associate Practitioner course.

Prerequisite: Fundamentals

COURSEWORK: 8 hours synchronous + 2 hours asynchronous

Practicum: 50-hours; 5 observations in classroom over 8 months

ASSOCIATE PRACTITIONER course —

This course consists of a more in-depth immersion in the linguistic structure of language, with additional coursework in assessment and profile development, diagnostic and prescriptive teaching, in-depth student error analysis, vocabulary, morphology and etymology, the history of English, basic grammar, as well as practice in designing and delivering O-G lessons.

Prerequisite: Fundamentals

COURSEWORK: 45 hours synchronous + 40 hours asynchronous

Practicum: 100 hours; 10 observations over 8 months (minimum).

CERTIFIED training —

This advanced coursework includes topics such as current research, study of the brain, dyslexia and related difficulties, language structure, writing, grammar, morphology, etymology, assessment, error analysis, organization and study skills, technology, and O-G in other subject areas.

Prerequisite: Completion of ALL Associate level coursework, assignments & practicum.

COURSEWORK: 100 hours (a variety of options available - please contact to discuss)

Practicum: 200 hours; 10 observations over 2 years (minimum)
